

Pine Knob patrons will be shocked

There's reason to hit the parking lot early for Wednesday's bill of Bob Weir & Rob Wasserman, Michelle Shocked and Bruce Cockburn at Pine Knob. Besides exceptional music, Shocked and her husband, accordionist Bart Bull, have taken to strolling the parking lot before the show, playing songs for Weir's Deadhead fans. "She'll take a fiddle and a guitar and play music with them," says Shocked's spokesman, Michael Saltzman. "All these people are just hanging out in the parking lot, doing tie-dye and other stuff, so she just goes out for an impromptu jam. It's a fun thing." It also helps ease the sting of the $5 parking fee.

THE MEANING OF KYLE: Former "Twin Peaks" star Kyle MacLachlan says he sees himself in the soul-searching men he has portrayed. "The characters . . . have so much torment and searching and questioning," the 33-year-old actor says in the August issue of GQ. "It's where I am right now as a man — I'm continually questioning who I am." MacLachlan played FBI agent Dale Cooper on ABC's "Twin Peaks." He played an innocent drawn to the underworld in the movie "Blue Velvet." In the upcoming film "Twin Peaks: Fire Walk with Me," MacLachlan again plays the role of the FBI agent.

Shocked:
Serenading

MacLachlan:
Contemplating

CALLERS WHO RANG the Attic Theatre box office Monday received a signal as unhappy as Shakespeare's "mournful bell," saying the phone number listed in a story in Monday's Free Press had been disconnected. Attic general manager Jim Moran apologized and said that box office staffers are taking orders over the Attic's other number — 875-8285.

Moran said they hope the old number (875-8284) will be back in operation soon — maybe by mid-August when, as Shakespeare said, "back again this ring will be delivered."

MOTHER NATURE'S playing tricks on Catherine Leahan. Monday, Channel 2's expectant reporter discussed WJR's question of the morning — "What's bothering you?" — with king of the morning, J.P. McCarthy. Leahan suggested that a more appropriate question would be "What's bugging you?" Her answer: carpenter ants. She also slipped in that her bags were packed for the hospital and she was timing contractions. Later, Channel 2's Patricia Mills joked that Leahan was "not technically in labor but could give birth any day. She's trying to will herself into labor."

SLY'S BACK: Sylvester Stallone returned to the "Cliffhanger" movie set in Italy on Monday, a week after he was sidelined with a slashed hand. "He's back in action," said film publicist Peter Silbermann. Good news, indeed, for the cultural elite.